Any member can join this team, training will be given or you can just call in and see what we are doing

Accessions in the Museum

I am delighted to be able to inform you that we have been offered, as a gift, a Thomas Carter George III long case clock in an oak body. The clock is currently in Leeds and I am currently working out how to collect it. I have no problem with the journey; just not sure if it will fit in my car!

The dimensions of the clock are 77.25 inches high; 22 inches wide and 9.50 inches deep.

The clock was given to the donor by her mother, the late Jessie Swift nee Iles of College Farm Purton.

Royal Antediluvian Order of the Buffalo

The RAOB that met in the Red Lion since the 1950's has now been wound up and many of the artefacts have been passed to the museum over the summer, for the museum archive; once everything is accessioned, I will be putting a display together of some of the artefacts including the “jewels” and the regalia.

Administrative tasks update

Now that we have got through all the changes necessary for sorting out the contents of the museum, it was decided at the August meeting of the Museum Committee that this committee would be disbanded and all future discussions regarding the museum will take place in the quarterly Main Committee meeting.

As well as creating the walk for the Chiseldon local history group whom we had the pleasure of meeting on the 3rd August, I have also created a walk relating to the Inns of Cricklade High Street and Calcutt Street which took place on the 21st August; amazingly we had 35 people on that walk, (I had expected about 6 people!) I will include a summary of the walk in the Bulletin. Our plan is to create a library of walks so we don't have to start afresh each time we are asked to do a walk.

Unknown people photographs

Since the last newsletter we have put a further 12 images up on the website – please do have a look at: www.cricklademuseum.co.uk we are currently working on improving the presentation of the photographs, hopefully by the next newsletter this new presentation will be in place on the website.

Please let me know if you recognise anybody.
